University: Sheffield Hallam University

Degree Course: Industrial Design

I have just completed a degree in Industrial Design at Sheffield Hallam University. I currently work part-time for a local newspaper, where I specialise in graphic design and also write a fortnightly column. Before I studied at Longley Park Sixth Form College, I wasn't sure if I would go to University as nobody in my family had ever been before. However, my time at College played a huge role in shaping my academic life and provided me with the educational grounding and confidence to move onto University. Now I have graduated, I am also considering further studies for a Masters Degree.
